照片	 The image consists of two side-by-side black and white photographs. Both photographs show a close-up of a person's hand using a syringe-like tool to press a pimple on the face of a doll. The doll's face is the central focus, and the hand is positioned to apply pressure to a bump on the skin. The background is a textured, light-colored surface, possibly a bedsheet or a towel. The overall appearance is that of a medical or cosmetic procedure being performed on a toy.
